- 12:11:17 From Joy Parks : I think my ex still only got better at pretending after G5. And he was near perfection at faking recovery for a decade. Only 1 time- didn't go back for round 2.

What he does, works for him.

- 12:11:17 From Gunita : Gunita P. - Miami, FL
- 12:11:36 From dena : QUESTION - Are there any published statistics re: what Tabi is talking about (the amount of time it takes to change). I have survivor whose ex keeps getting more parenting time even though he continues to psychologically and emotionally abuse the kids. The counselors keep telling the kids to try to see their dad's perspective, so the pressure is on the kids to "learn to cope" as opposed to compelling dad to learn how to parent without coercive control.

12:13:25 From Kendra : Because - Tabi's "sassy pants!" 😄

12:15:41 From Kendra : "How unloving to let someone sit in their sin. "

Well said! This is supposed to be the premise behind church discipline/Mt. 18.

12:16:02 From katharine : Yes! the woman at the well already knew the truth that she was sinful, whereas the pharisees were in denial

12:17:17 From Joy Forrest : Replying to "Yes! the woman at th..."

Exactly! She was loaded with strain. Isaiah describes it. "A bruise reed, he will not break, and a smoldering wick he will not extinguish.

Sorry, loaded with SHAME

12:18:56 From Audrey Whitaker : isn't the 3 steps back more of a cycle than progression, just the other shoe dropping again?

12:19:43 From Dr. Debra : DARVO article would be helpful for a counselor if they take the time to understand it.

Agree, but given carefully.

12:30:22 From dena : ...just a side note...from my experience, it might be a good idea for her to rethink moving in with him before getting married. If she has any custody/parenting time hearings coming up, the judge might not look favorably on that arrangement, and depending on your state's best interest factors, her ex might be able to use the "moral integrity" argument against her.

12:33:52 From Gunita : Question: How to respond to an abuser (husband), who asks his wife to help to have a better relationship with his teenage daughter?

His daughter is very affected by his rough communication, and tries to stay away from him in her room. Says she's not hungry when it's dinner time, so don't have to sit with him, and comes back later to eat, when dad is gone.

12:33:53 From Keri Drowatzky : It's really sad to me that this society since Adam and Eve, still teaches that your value is only in having a mate for life. This being the only way you can be happy and complete. God used Peter and Paul as single men to do more for Him. Sometimes another person can be in the way.

I hate the "only if's I had someone."

12:36:05 From Kendra : Any details you can share yet regarding next year's Retreat???

They should be available in Band for advocates who are in that group.

12:40:49 From Ladonna : Question: if we are planning on signing up to be an advocate, but are not ready to do so for a couple months; should we start the onboard process?

12:42:32 From Ladonna : Question: Is there any extra education on interviewing victims? I need more practice on asking good questions
