Speak to your church or social group about Called to Peace Ministries. Would you pray about 3 or 4 churches or groups you could ask to speak to in the Month of October about Called to Peace Ministries? We say 3-4 because it is likely only 1 or 2 will actually say yes to your request. CTPM will give you talking points and statistics that you can choose to share with your group or church as you seek to share your passion for women who have experienced Coercive Control and Domestic Abuse.

That's a really good question! In years past you have been able to stay off campus. Let me see if I can verify.

11:55:07 From Ladonna : QUESTION: What if the abuser says he will agree to the mediated plan but will not follow it on his weeks (for example school attendance)? This was said during the mediation, the abuser signed it and proceeded to do what he said. In that case, would it have been better for her to not sign the agreement and go to court instead? It's difficult to say what is the best option for her. We can help with pros and cons to decide next steps such as contempt or order to show cause.

11:55:35 From Jessica Gallina : Replying to "QUESTION: For the 20..."

Thank you, Brooke!

forsure, do the dance and please the judge and try to still get them to come to the right conclusions, at least partly... so hard to go through. you can definitely feel gaslit through the process, like you are making a big deal over nothing.

12:39:24 From Susanne : My sister settled for a bad agreement because she was afraid to see him in court.

12:39:26 From Tara : QUESTION: DO you think it is helpful for a victim to have their advocate read over the mediation documents as well, or just to have them go through them only with their attorney?

12:42:18 From Tara : when I went to court with a lady to do the paperwork for a NCO, it was super scary because there had been a gun involved days earlier. We had to come up with a plan to park close to the courthouse doors, drive around the block first to see if he was anywhere noticeable etc....it was a safety issue for not only her, but two of us supporting her.

12:42:38 From Becki Johnson : If she's feeling coerced, would it be useful for her to say out loud that she's feeling pressured and would only be signing under duress? It may be noted, however, more likely to be overlooked.

12:48:25 From Jen Mellor : QUESTION: Do you know of any people who have gone through these trainings who have decided to do GAL or Mediator work? I don't know about mediation. We had one person start who was a GAL. Unfortunately, she dropped out. We do have a couple of people who studied to be a paralegal.

12:48:29 From Rebecca S. : Reacted to "Hahaha... Well a frien..." with ❤️

12:48:49 From Amy : Question: If a list of mediators is provided to choose from, is there time for parties to contact the mediators and ask the questions suggested before choosing/approving of a mediator?

12:49:00 From Ladonna : One survivor I know had a mediator that was only a paralegal and they used the wrong numbers for deciding the child support and the survivor didn't know for several years.

12:49:53 From Amy Henderson : What brought me comfort through mediation was writing out Psalm 56 on an index card and having it with me to read over. One thing that I did not know was that I was supposed to have cash on hand to pay the mediator at the time so after 7 hours of mediation and being told I owed $700, that brought me to a breaking point. So I would definitely find out how you are supposed to pay the mediator beforehand.

12:52:06 From Priya : What is the difference between working with a mediator and a settlement Judge
A mediator works to get both sides to an agreement. An arbitrator or settlement judge listen to evidence and make a decision instead of a judge.

There are a lot of distortions in the Church around court, as well. It's always good to take a step back and look at the whole of the word of God and study it. That gives us a much clearer picture.

Not usually

13:02:11 From Karyn Russo : In NY the word Legal makes medical and educational decisions. (Joint legal) or Joint Physical Custody where the child lives.

13:02:35 From Audrey Whitaker : ??? Is it good for a mother to always try for primary custody? especially if she has been primary care giver? it seems like 50/50 really sets up abuser to take more control in a lot of areas.

Yes, it is very evil. I feel it's never about the children with abusers. The abuser doesn't want the kids, but they don't want the mother to have the children either.

13:09:50 From mm ral nc : ? Resiliency websites?

13:11:31 From Amy : Question: Someone told me that if I have evidence of him in a new relationship prior to divorce, that it would be further evidence of dad's lack of concern for our children..... is that possible to work to my advantage in court? Depends on the state, the judge, and whether he's planning to remarry. Sometimes, used as a ploy to get primary residential custody, then the new partner disappears from the pictures.

13:11:47 From Julie : our ladies are often bouncing through housing for some time due to the financial strain. They fear that in the court's eyes.

13:14:47 From KAMILLA : 2024 He Makes All Things New Women's Retreat – May 2-5 in Lake Junaluska, North Carolina. Our theme is BELOVED! God calls us "His Beloved." He delights in us and invites us to know His deep, life-changing love!

Join Called to Peace Ministries (along with Chris Moles, Elyse Fitzpatrick, Darby Strickland, Renee Best and more) for an extended weekend and discover just how powerful it is to know our great God's love. We invite you to rest with us as we seek to unbind the lies, fear, and anxiety that past experiences of abuse have implanted into our hearts, and walk into the freedom and peace that come from the intimate knowledge of His love.

Early bird registration will end on November 8, 2023. Don't delay!!
