12:10:18 From Ladonna : QUESTION: What were the percentages of mom vs dad's who make false reports?

12:10:22 From Amanda Story : What if PC and evaluators disregard protective moms concerns and situation and insists that mom put herself and the kids in harms way and not safe exchanging and if mom doesn't do these things then they will flip the fees on her to make her pay the entire amounts of these professionals and write judge to let them know that mom is in contempt because she won't adhere to these professionals "recommendations," and dad tells mom what these people will do to her as he paid them to do it and how she either needs to check herself into a psych ward or she will go to jail for contempt. What can mom do to get out of these so called court ordered professionals where dad already fired the real doctor and real therapists and hired these ones that will side with him and further abuse mom. ?? We understand you have a complicated situation and will work with you individually on your concerns. When advocates come across these types of situations, we recommend setting up 3-way calls with a consulting advocate because the nuances of these situations can be very different.

12:15:14 From Amanda Story : Can we get an advocate to help us shape up our list of court professionals that are being used currently to further harm the kids and protective targeted parent We find these individuals are highly resistant to hearing the truth about what they are doing because it goes against their misinformed training.

12:16:18 From Chelsea Leonard : Gives hope my daughter has been brainwashed washed and now is refusing to see me and dad is demanding I give up custody. What therapy do you need to look for? Find a coercive control educated and trauma-informed therapist to work with her. Many times, difficult to do without consent from the abuser.

12:17:31 From Shonquella Terrell (BeSHE Inc.) : Rite:)

12:17:36 From Helenmary : Q: Where does the funding for updated training come from if States qualify? Federal funds states request through VAWA.

12:17:39 From Tracy from PA : Can women ask for a court advocate that represents ONLY the kids - still judge has to decide but it might help and it's free You can ask for this. Be cautious the court advocate is well-trained in the topics we cover in the training program.

12:17:53 From Amanda Story : That judge training though NC admin of courts says that they can't mandate that the courts do anything- they said they have trained I believe 88 judges but they won't tell folks who has been trained. At this point, NC has not passed legislation to draw on Federal Funds under Kayden's Law/VAWA Title 15.

12:27:32 From Julie : I did an interesting training given by EVAMI recently which was essentially a conversation between an advocate and a cop. It was very interesting to come to grips with some of the struggles in working together being rooted in our different cultures, style, authority structures, etc. And the need to seek understanding of the limits and expectations of the "other" when working together and talking about solutions. I see hope when we can honor each other's expertise and system, limits, and blind spots. Just wrestle with how to walk the walk in my community. Prayer is huge! Thanks for talking about the needs. 12:43:01 From Julie : Question: I wonder if this bias against believing women is one of the reasons we have one local attorney who prefers to completely avoid any talk of the abuse in court. He prefers to just pursue a divorce and custody without that context. It has befuddled us.

12:43:41 From Ladonna : One survivor has almost no contact with her kids and has been told by GAL to not go to CPS again. Kids isolated. Only safe adult who regularly has time with oldest daughter has abuse concerns and witnessed her being threatened with a fist for minor annoyance. Adult doesn't want to go to CPS because she knows she will be cut off from the girl by abuser. The mother has an illegal recording of the safe adult telling what happened. Any ideas if or how to proceed? Contact a consulting advocate to determine next steps.

Why illegal? Check state statutes- In Texas, as long as one party knows, it is a legal recording. - whether it is wise to reveal the recording is another matter.

12:51:30 From Rebecca noel : It sounds like the courts are purposely putting the kids with abusers. This is so so sad and heartbreaking.

In some states, all parties must know of/consent to the recording, not just one. Another reason to know the state statutes.

12:57:36 From Rebecca noel : QUESTION:

is it best for a child to testify to anyone involved in the court system that he/she is being abused? Can the child report abuse to a counselor or the mother's lawyer or to a GAL? The child can report abuse to any adult. Some GALs will respond positively. I worked with a mom where her child spoke to the GAL and he immediately called CPS. This was how she was able to regain custody.
